Hungry for power

By providing a stable output, your computer will not suffer from voltage fluctuation or power surges. Both your hardware and data are safe from damage when using the GXT Oxxttron. The Automatic Voltage Regulation (AVR) automatically corrects voltage inconsistencies so that you can continue gaming during power fluctuations. This together with the RFI filter and surge protection, guarantees the safety of your gaming set-up.

Protect your gear

You can trust your devices will stay with you the entire journey towards championship. This GXT 795 has 4 protected outputs. So easily connect your PC, monitor and other essential gaming gear. Let this UPS be the difference between you and your enemies; the difference between all or nothing.

Use the power

The UPS is easily set up with the included loop through cables and after installing the Smart Management software, the UPS gives you a notification when your power is unstable. You'll have immediate access to critical information and can act instantly when necessary. It will automatically save your data during a power outage and shut down the PC safely via the USB connection. Use the power, don't let it hold you back.
