Omnidirectional action

You will be fully absorbed in your game or video with the omnidirectional vision. Look left, right, up, down or even turn around; your smartphone automatically detects where you are looking at and adjust the view. You are now on your way to the other side of the planet, diving into underwater worlds or building your own virtual cities. VR experiences are easily downloadable in the Apple App Store and Google Play store or go to YouTube or other video services to watch 360° videos.

Wire-free VR experience

The Trust Exora works with any smartphone up to 80x160mm (6.2"). The virtual reality glasses feature integrated, adjustable headphones so you can enjoy VR wire-free. No more fuss with cables while playing your favourite VR games! The volume control button makes sure you are always perfectly set for your VR experience.

Cable control

Is your phone running out of battery but you have not yet finished your game? You can still easily access your smartphone's connections, allowing you to charge your smartphone while using the VR glasses.

Endless comfort

Completely forget reality. The Exora will make your virtual reality experience as smooth as possible, with its soft rubber padding and three adjustable head straps. You can adjust the distance between the two lenses to the distance between your eyes (IPD) as well as the focus distance for perfect vision. This ensures ideal and comfortable conditions for hours of virtual reality fun!
