A.

1. Turn the mouse power switch to ON.
2. Insert the USB-C receiver into the mouse's charging port.
3. Connect the USB-C receiver to the printer's USB-C port.

The diagram illustrates the connection of a USB-C cable to a USB-A port. It is divided into two horizontal sections by a line. The top section, labeled '3A' in a red circle, shows a USB-C cable (represented by a rectangle with two curved lines) connected to a USB-C port (represented by a rounded rectangle with a horizontal slot). The bottom section, labeled '3B' in a red circle, shows a USB-C cable connected to a USB-A port (represented by a rectangle with a horizontal slot). The text 'USB-C' and 'USB-A' are placed below their respective ports.
