Sensitive sensor for every purpose

The Rivan's extremely precise laser sensor offers you up to 14.400 DPI and can be set using the DPI switch or our advanced gaming software. This allows you to adapt your mouse to your specific gaming situation, no matter if that is first person sniper shooting or a racing game.

Advanced gaming software

With our advanced gaming software you are allowed to alter your mouse settings to create your perfect mouse. Alter your DPI settings and button settings, change your mouse's lights, create macro's and make different profiles with all perfect settings for each different game you play. The settings will be stored to the mouse's internal memory, which means your settings will be saved even if you change computers.

Ambidextrous design

The Rivan is designed for both left- and right handed gamers. Fits comfortably in both hands and gives you all the control you need. You are ready to take on any battle!
